Performance Analysis

- ▶ Risk sentiment was mixed in Q3 2021, with concerns around slowing global growth, rising inflation and hawkish messaging from major central banks all key themes throughout the quarter. Commodity markets continued to provide a positive backdrop for Trendfollowing strategies, while fixed income and currency markets proved more difficult.
- ▶ Bonds was the worst performing sector for the Fund. Yields initially fell due to signs of slower global growth and rising COVID-19 cases, before rising later in the quarter as the US Federal Reserve indicated they were preparing to taper asset purchases. Long positions held by Trendfollowing managers were the main driver of losses.
- ▶ Emerging market currencies was another difficult sector for the Fund, with short USD positions against the MXN and the PLN the largest detractors from performance. The USD was choppy for much of the period, initially weakening as US yields fell before reversing after the Federal Reserve forecasted faster than expected US rate hikes in response to higher inflation.
- ▶ Energy was the best performing sector for the Fund, with longs in natural gas, gasoil and crude oil all contributing positively. A global supply crunch and strong demand saw natural gas prices jump sharply. Trendfollowing and Value drove gains in the sector.
- ▶ In soft commodities, long positions in cotton and coffee resulted in further gains for Trendfollowing. Coffee prices climbed higher after frost in Brazil raised concerns around supplies, while cotton futures rallied to a decade high on the back of adverse weather in some key growing regions and strong Chinese demand.

Positioning

- ▶ The Fund finished the quarter long bonds, having switched its positioning in the sector from short to long near the beginning of the period. The Fund’s long exposures in equities was decreased, while long energy and soft commodity exposures were increased. In currencies, the Fund ended the quarter long the USD, with offsetting shorts concentrated in the JPY and EUR.

► VaR Definition: Value-at-Risk (VaR) expresses market risk as a percentage of a portfolio's value. The VaR figures quoted are as of 30 September 2021, based on a historic VaR calculation with a 5-year lookback period (1300 days). The historical approach to evaluating a portfolio's VaR involves applying the current positions to the historical portfolio prices of the corresponding instruments, and then calculating how the current positioning would have performed historically. For any chosen threshold value, the hypothetical returns then provide an estimate of the current VaR figure.

► %VaR: %VaR is the contract VaR as a percentage of the sum of the individual contract VaRs within the Fund.

► Correlation Definition: Correlation is a statistical measure which quantifies the extent to which two assets, or securities, move in relation to each other. The correlation coefficient between two assets can vary from between -1 and +1, with a positive correlation indicating a tendency to rise and fall together, and a negative correlation indicating a tendency to move in opposite directions.

Diversified Trendfollowing: A systematic style that managers adopt to take advantage of trends in markets, with positions taken for duration of four weeks and longer.

Global Macro: A global macro approach is based on trading macroeconomic themes over multiple time frames. A Macro manager will trade looking to profit from global economic trends which include interest rates, economic policies, and currency fluctuations. Value: A systematic trading of interest rate yield curve differentials and changes in term structure over medium term to long term. A Value manager trades based on a view that contracts are not priced correctly in the current market due to expected future trends and potential.

► Morningstar Rating: The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating™ for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating™ metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. The Abbey Capital Futures Strategy Fund (Share Class I) was rated 4 stars over the 3-year period and 4 stars over the 5-year period ending 30 September 2021 among 21 and 21 US Systematic Trend funds, respectively.
